LIGHT WEIGHT APPLICATION MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

ABSTRACT

5   An application management system comprises a management centre, at least one application and means for transmitting application management data between said management centre and said managed application, said application management data being at least partially XML-10   based.